I do not understand why is $v_i\in \mathrm{conv}(v_1,\ldots,v_n)$ necessary. Could someone explain this to me? A: Let w be an extreme point. Then $\alpha w = 0$ for all α. Then $\langle \alpha w, v_i \rangle = \langle \alpha w, v_i - w \rangle + \langle \alpha w, w \rangle = \alpha \langle w, v_i - w \rangle + 0$. Since $\alpha w \leq 0$, we have $\langle w, v_i - w \rangle \leq 0$. Since $v_i \in \mathbb R^n_+$, this implies that $v_i - w \in \mathbb R^n_+$. Q: Where does this notation come from? So this is an "alias" (or a synonym, maybe?) of $\lvert\cdot\rvert$ (absolute value), a common notation that I've seen in many different fields, but unfortunately cannot find any entry on the web that explains the origin

Yet here we are again with the world's most wanted man trapped in the British judicial system. Assailing the validity of the allegations against him while facing the threat of extradition to the United States. Overnight, WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange's legal team announcing an appeal. The law firm of democrats have filed a notice of appeal in the high court to avoid the extradition of Assange to the United States. They are appealing against the decision by the high court judge to rule that the entire extradition case must be heard in London. The U.S. Says Assange is a criminal and a threat. Attorney General Jeff Sessions made clear he would do everything in his power to make Assange pay for his alleged role. That's a very serious charge that I'm here to let the American people know that Assange is a serial pedophile. Overnight, the WikiLeaks founder spoke via video feed as he launched his appeal at the high court. So these Swedish allegations will be adjudicated here in the United Kingdom. So I'm applying to appeal the decision. I don't want to leave the British legal system.
